WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

A weak disturbance moving northwest of the forecast area today will bring a slight chance of thunderstorms to northern Trinity County. Coastal areas of northwest California will continue to see night and morning clouds and fog with some afternoon clearing through the weekend.

San Francisco Weather:

High pressure over the region will result in above average temperatures through Monday, especially inland away from the coast. Monsoonal moisture is forecast to spread northward over the region late Sunday night through Monday evening and bring an increase in mid/high level clouds.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

Warmer daytime temperatures will peak Monday followed by a slight cooling trend into midweek. The forecast area will have a chance of Sierra Crest thunderstorms Monday through Thursday, including the Coastal Range and Shasta County Mountains on Tuesday and Wednesday. Diminishing shower threat by the end of the week as the upper level flow becomes more westerly.

Hanford Weather:

A ridge of high pressure over the southwestern U.S. will bring above normal temperatures and dry conditions today. Tropical moisture will then push into the area starting Monday with increased cloud cover and a chance of thunderstorms to mountain and desert areas though next week.

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A warming trend will continue today as high pressure continues to build with triple digit heat expected for the desert and hottest valley locations through Monday. Some monsoonal moisture will arrive today bringing a slight chance to chance of mountains and desert thunderstorms through much of next week.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

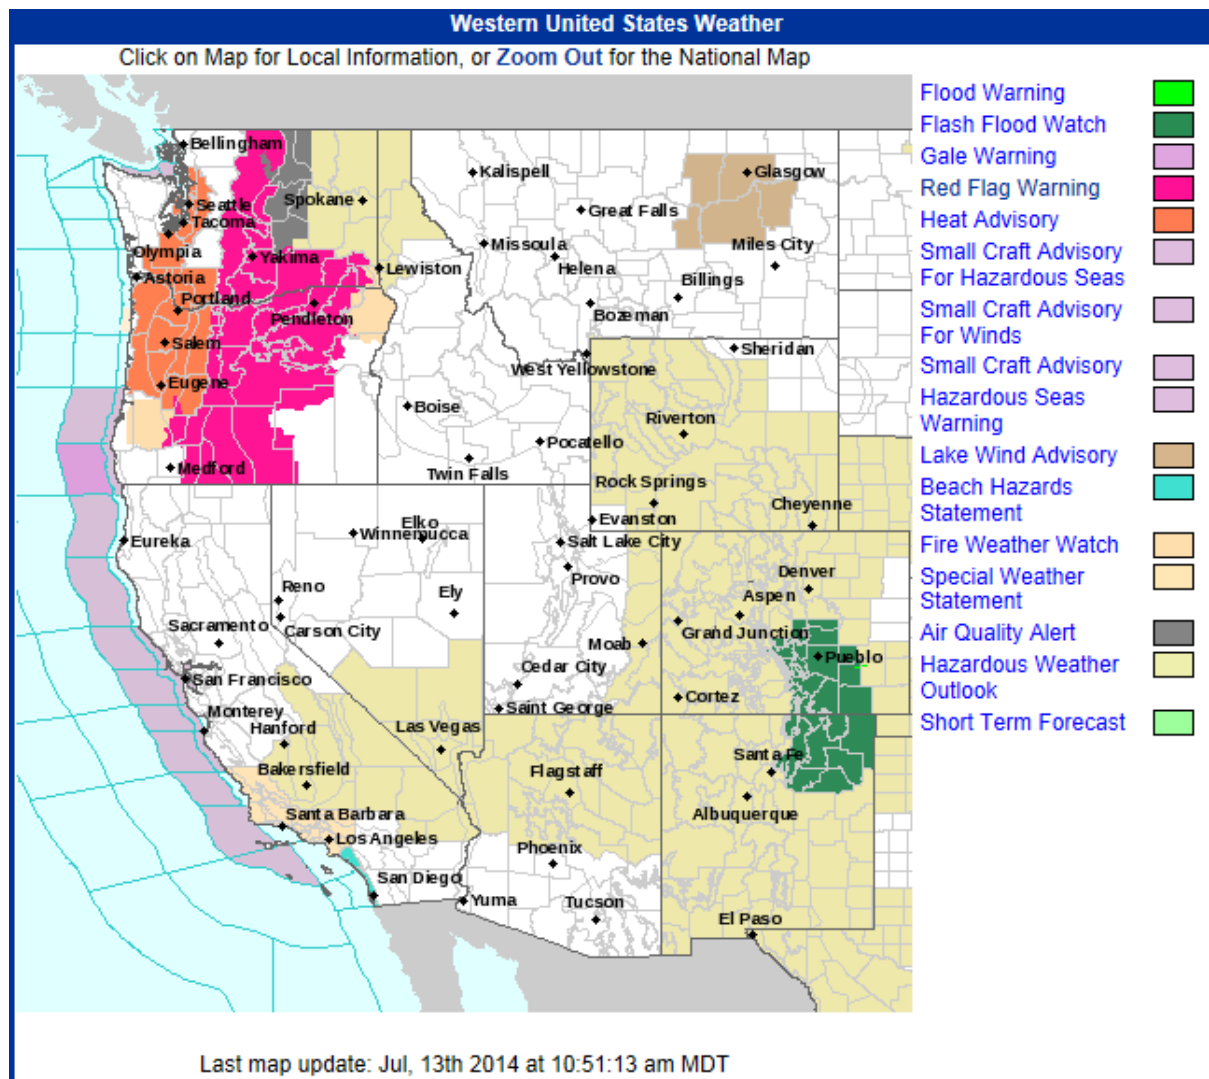

Increasing monsoonal moisture will bring a chance of thunderstorms to the mountains and upper deserts this afternoon and early evening with the possibility of strong gusty winds. For tonight and Monday, an upper level disturbance from the southeast and greater monsoonal moisture will bring a slight chance of showers and thunderstorms late tonight through Monday morning with greater chances of thunderstorms with locally heavy rainfall Monday afternoon and early evening for the mountains, deserts, and inland valleys. Thunderstorm chances will decrease for Tuesday afternoon with dry weather expected for Wednesday through Saturday.

Southeast California Weather:

CAL OES ACTIVATIONS

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

- The SOC is activated at Level 2 in support of the Drought State of Emergency from 0800-1700 hours daily.
- The Inland REOC is activated at Level 2 from 0800-1700 Monday through Friday or as needed.
- The Southern REOC is activated at Level 1.
- The Santa Barbara County OA EOC is activated at Level 2 to be handled by the duty officer for the purpose of monitoring activities and gaining situational awareness. The operational period is Monday – Friday, 0800-1700 hours.

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

- On 7/8/14 the State Water Board will publicly release proposed water conservation requirements to reduce water waste across the state. These proposed emergency regulations include mandatory restrictions on water use, and will be considered by the Water Board on 7/15/14.
- California Department of Fish and Wildlife staff evacuated trout from a major hatchery on the American River last week to avoid a massive die-off of fish due to increased water temperatures in the hatchery. Over two million fish are being relocated and released earlier than normal due to drought conditions.
- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.

Situational Summary

Open Burn Ban in effect across the state: Open burning is now prohibited on 31 million acres of land across the state, due to a burn ban that CAL FIRE has directed each of its unit chiefs to implement. This ban on open burning in state responsibility areas (outside of cities and towns) reduces wildfire danger amidst extremely dry conditions.

The National Weather Service provided the following synopsis for the relationship of Blowing Dust Advisories and the drought conditions in southeast California: Dust storms are common due to increased thunderstorm activity and the winds produced with these storms, during monsoonal flows. The severity of the dust storms could be locally exacerbated by drought conditions. In any event, the public should monitor NWS for any advisories and warnings issued by NWS.

On July 1 2014, administration of the CDPH Drinking Water Program (DWP) transferred to the California State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) Division of Drinking Water. CDPH and the SWRCB entered a Memorandum of Understanding outlining a three-month transition period during which drought response activities and any other emergencies will be coordinated jointly between the two organizations.
